COLLECTIONS

INTRO

ERICA WAKERLY is a luxury wallpaper designer known for her minimal, architectural aesthetic and use of reflective metallic finishes to enhance the light in a space.

Blending modern design with traditional production methods, the wallpapers are crafted with a timeless quality.

Her award winning studio was established in London in 2006 to create a point of difference in the market.

Now based in the British sea-side town of Margate, ERICA WAKERLY continues to supply prestigious projects worldwide. These include retail experiences, hospitality projects, workspace design and residential interiors.

DESIGN ETHOS

The collections are forward thinking, but rooted in tradition.

We value traditional production methods and use these alongside harnessing cutting edge digital technology for specific projects.

Print marks are formed using layers of rich pigments and processes akin to silk screen printing.

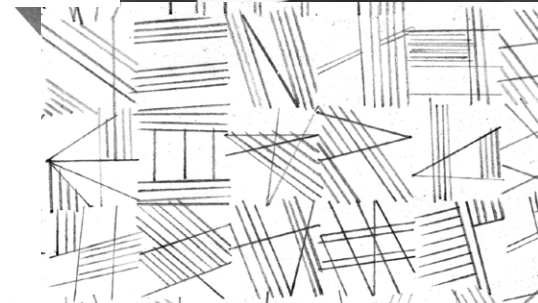

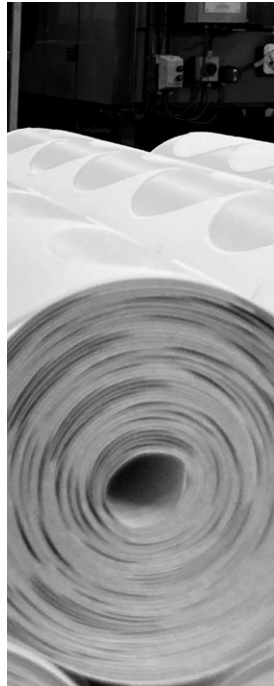

Colours are mixed by eye – a highly skilled, very human process, resulting in a hand-crafted feel, depth of surface and a luxurious, functional product.

Sustainability is integral to our way of thinking. We strive to create designs which are innovative, yet timeless and long lasting.

We believe in surrounding ourselves with things that improve our spaces and quality of life, but believe the aesthetic itself should be enduring.

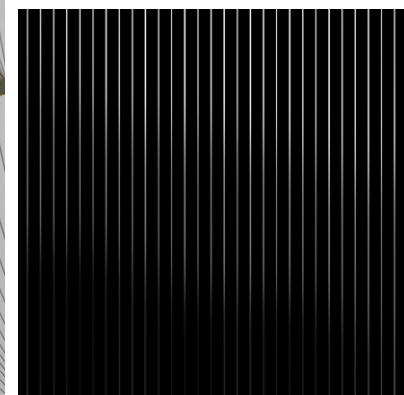

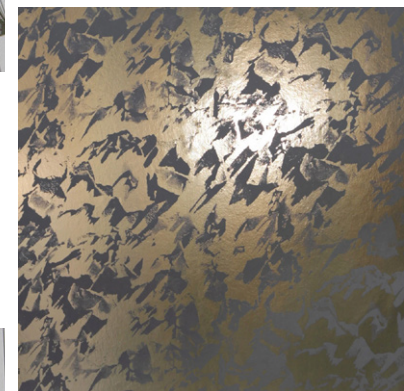

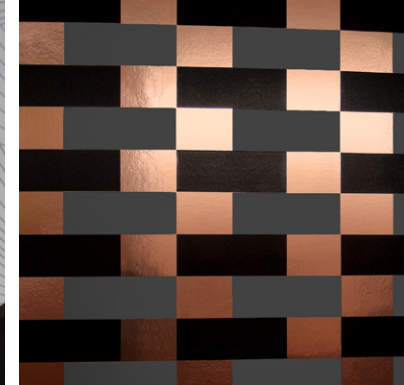

This has always been our approach but has become more important now than ever before.
